ESG at number eleven in the top German IT consultancies

ESG Consulting on a par with globally active IT consultants.

Munich, the 25th of June, 2007

Lünendonk GmbH from Bad Wörishofen, Germany, has once again drawn up a list of the leading IT consulting companies and system integrators in Germany for this year: 2007. The list, which has been drawn up and published in various categories since 1984, is an important indicator in the European area for the economy, politics, companies and markets.

ESG Elektroniksystem- und Logistik-GmbH has climbed up to 11th place among the 25 largest companies for IT consultation and system integration. ESG was ranked number 12 the previous year. All companies in Germany with at least 60 percent of their turnover coming from IT consultation and system integration were taken into consideration during the evaluation.

ESG Consulting GmbH, a wholly owned subsidiary of ESG Elektroniksystem- und Logistik-GmbH, will continue to reinforce this trend with its consulting services, ensuring its place in the ranking over the coming years. Thanks to its bundled consulting expertise, ESG Consulting GmbH is on a par with globally active IT consultancies such as Accenture, Capgemini or the Softlab Group.

The ESG Consulting team is agreed that ESG Consulting's comprehensive range of services will become established in the hotly competed IT consultancy market and will make significant contributions to the strategic fit of many major companies and to the successful shaping of their business processes and system landscapes.
